Dreams are unique gifts given to each of us. Dreams connect us to a source of wisdom beyond the ego and can heal and guide us on our journey to become more whole persons. In this weekend workshop we will discuss classical elements of Jungian dream work and situate this content within the larger arena of psychological development and spiritual growth. Through lecture, conversation and discussion, the group will work with some dreams from scripture as well as with several dreams volunteered by participants. If you wish to work with a dream, bring a written copy to the weekend.

LIMITED SEATS: This program is limited to 12 participants who will participate in both the Friday and Saturday sessions. Beginners and those more experienced in working with dreams are welcome!

LOCATION – The Jung Haus at 59 W. 3rd Ave. Columbus, OH 43201.

Janice Bachman, O.P., is a Jungian Analyst and spiritual director in practice in the Columbus area. A key area of interest for her is the convergence of analytical psychology and spirituality, and how the two disciplines and their symbols inform the process of analysis, spiritual development and becoming more whole persons.

Janice is on the summer faculty at Creighton University, Omaha, NE, where she teaches in the Graduate Program in Christian Spirituality. She holds a masters' degree in Christian Spirituality from Creighton University and a diploma in Analytical Psychology from the Ontario Association of Jungian Analysts (Toronto), and an MBA from Xavier University, Cincinnati.
